

MAIL MESSENGER ROBBED TODAY IN MINNESOTA CITY

Registered Mail Taken;
Amount of Loot is Not Disclosed

Winona, Minn., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Five bandits held up a Winona mail wagon about 4:30 a. m. today, tied the messenger's hands and feet with wire and gagged him and then after selecting the four registered pouches out of between 50 and 60 bags headed towards the Twin Cities in an automobile.

The night messenger, Henry Williams, was on his way from the C. & N. W. Railway depot to the post office, a distance of about eight blocks and then was to relay some of the mail over the Burlington route.

When about three blocks from the depot, the five men intercepted Williams, led him into an alley and warned him against any outcry and to "take orders."

While two men covered the messenger with guns, one tied Williams securely. Wire was tied to his feet, his hands were tied at his back and he was gagged, wire being used to tie a handkerchief around his head. Then he was placed on the ground, face downward. Meanwhile, the two others were scattering the mail bags about the ground searching for the registered pouches.

Load Pouches In Auto.
After throwing virtually all the pouches from the wagon, the four registered mail pouches were placed in an automobile which the bandits had ready for their escape.

Before departing, the bandits told Williams that he should not make a move for a half hour during which time they said a guard would be placed over him.

Postmaster Hicks said that the monetary value of the mail stolen could not be estimated at present, but added "it couldn't be worth very much to the robbers." He said he doubted that the four pouches stolen contained any great sum.

Sterlingite "Mouthy" With Wrong Man Here

When Walter Schultz of Sterling was asked why he did not dim the lights on a car he was driving on West Everett street about 11 o'clock last night, he is alleged to have made some uncomplimentary remarks to the inquirer and was stopped. Today he was in the county jail awaiting the arrival of sufficient funds to pay a fine of $10 and costs for operating an automobile within the city limits without dimming the lights.

Chief Deputy Sheriff William Rose happened to ask Schultz the question at the late hour last night and when the latter interrogated, "who the— wants to know?" the deputy stopped him and placed him under arrest. Schultz was driving a car which was said to belong to Charles Martin of Sterling for another machine. Martin issued a Schultz' release and he was fined $10 and costs before Justice J. O. Shaulls on a charge of driving an automobile bearing fictitious license plates.

No Wheat for Export from This Year's Crop

Washington, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The country's wheat yield this year is placed at 13 bushels an acre by the Department of Agriculture. Last year's production was 3.1 bushels an acre higher, the yield being 16.1 bushels. The acreage this year was only four tenths of one percent smaller than last year's, but owing to the reduced acre yield, this year's crop is forecast at 750,000,000 bushels while last year's totaled 873,000,000 bushels.

The crop this year will just about meet home requirements, crop experts say, and there will be very little wheat for export. August weather was favorable for small grains and as a result, the wheat yield as now forecast is 22,000,000 bushels larger than indicated a month ago.

City Club Holds Meet to Honor Late Editor

Chicago, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Editorial friends and associates in civic matters of the late Victor F. Lawson, editor and owner of the Chicago Daily News, gathered today at the City Club in a meeting to his memory.

S. J. Duncan-Clark, vice president of the City Club and chief editorial writer of the Chicago Evening Post; C. H. Dennis, editor of the Daily News and long managing editor for Mr. Lawson, with whom he has been associated for fifty years, and Allen B. Pond, a founder and former president of the City Club, were speakers. Mr. Lawson was a founder and a life member of the City Club. Had he lived until yesterday, Mr. Lawson would have been 75 years old.

"Egypt" Gets Rain to Break Long Drought

Herrin, Ill., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Rain, sufficient to break the backbone of the drought which had been prevalent here for sometime, fell in Herrin and the nearby vicinity last night. The downpour was preceded by a severe windstorm which did some damage. Last night's rain was the heaviest recorded here since last winter.

Metropolis, Ill., Sept. 10.—(AP)—A severe electrical storm accompanied by a heavy rain extended throughout Massac and adjoining counties last night. This is the first rain in Massac county since June 19th.

Doug MacLean is Looking for New Leading Lady

Douglas MacLean, former Dixonite, whose latest comedy, "Introduce Me," is now completing pre-release runs in over 1000 theatres in 49 states, believes in giving the girls a chance at stardom each time he films a new comedy. Anne Cornwall, the petite baby Wampus star who is attracting so much attention with her work in "Introduce Me" has already been snapped up by other producers for three important roles, and has a promise of being starred in the near future.

Prior to the opportunity afforded MacLean, Mr. Cornwall, Mr. MacLean gave Lillian Rich the opportunity that attracted Cecil De Mille's attention, and resulted in her forthcoming star picture, and prior to that both Marguerite Daw and Ruth Miller had their opportunities with Mr. MacLean that is said to have resulted in building up their salary from $200 a week to a star salary of $1500 weekly.

Candidates for stardom who wish an opportunity with Mr. MacLean, are requested to send their photographs and addresses to the Douglas MacLean productions at 780 Gower Street, Hollywood, California.

AMERICAN LORD'S TITLE CONTINUES THEME OF DEBATE

British Officials Insist He Can Keep U. S.
Rights

London, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Oliver Henry Wallop of Wyoming, who has announced that he will assume the title of Earl of Portsmouth in succession to his elder brother, may do so without foregoing his American citizenship, which he acquired by naturalization in 1904.

British officials pointed out today, however, that if the new peer desires to take his seat in the House of Lords, this would necessitate taking the oath of allegiance to the king, in which event he would automatically lose his American citizenship.

A number of Americans hold British titles, among them Lord Fairfax, Lord Camperdown and Lord Fermoy. It is believed here that the new Earl of Portsmouth may come to England and assume his title, but members of the family say there are no indications that he has any intention of taking his seat in the House of Lords.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

Sheridan, Wyo., Sept. 10.—(AP)—To be, or not to be an American citizen without renouncing the right to succeed to the title of Earl of Portsmouth—that is the question confronting Oliver Henry Wallop, Wyoming ranchman, who on Monday night inherited the Earldom through the death in London of his elder brother, John Felices Wallop, seventh Earl of Portsmouth.

Wallop reiterated his desire to be a "man of two countries," despite statements of naturalization officers that it would be impossible for him to hold his citizenship here and at the same time succeed to the title, which gives him the ninety-ninth seat of honor in the House of Lords. He was busy today working on his ranch. He is the dean of the little colony of Englishmen who have settled on ranches in Little Goose Canyon six-tens miles southeast of here.

He expects to depart for England in November.

George Hawley of the Dixon Water company who was injured in an automobile accident two weeks ago, was able to be out for the first time yesterday. While he is improving quite rapidly he will be incapacitated for several days and is able to be about some each day with a cane.

HEINEN'S THEORY OF DISASTER HIT BY AIR OFFICERS

Called "Big Joke" Today
by Navigator of Ill-
Fated Dirigible

Colonel Mitchell's Commander is Kin of S. M. Hinds of Dixon

Major General Earnest Hinds, commanding the Eighth Corps Area on whose staff Col. William Mitchell, "Stormy Petrel" of the aviation service, is now assigned, is a distant relative of S. M. Hinds, 825 Logan avenue, this city. Maj. Gen. Hinds entered West Point from Alabama, July 1, 1883, was commissioned second lieutenant of the 2nd Artillery June 27, 1887, and during the insurrection in the Philippines he served as major of volunteers while attached to the 49th Infantry. While soldiering in the Philippines the Dixon man had the pleasure of being introduced to Gen. Hinds by the former's uncle, the late Joseph Monroe Hinds, former American minister to Brazil, who at that time was Assistant Director General of Posts for the Philippines.

Washington, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Criticism and retort continue in the wake of the Shenandoah disaster as the revived air service controversy stirs more interest in congressional circles. Secretary Wilbur declares in a formal statement issued to correct "certain misleading assertions" that there was nothing whatever "political" in connection with the Shenandoah flight. In that flight as well as that of the lost seaplane PN-9-1, the commanding officers, he asserts, were given entire freedom in selecting the time of the flights and were confident of their success.

Also, he regards as entirely disproven the theory that the reduction in the number of escape valves might have contributed to the Shenandoah's collapse.

Those Removed Valves
The opinion however of Captain Anton Heinen, dirigible construction engineer, that reduction of the number of escape valves made the Shenandoah unsafe is one of the questions that will be inquired into a forthcoming congressional investigation of the disaster announced by Chairman Butler of the House naval affairs committee.

Chairman Butler said the committee also will investigate the attack of Col. William Mitchell on the administration of the air service, in which he included the assertion that politics had dictated the Shenandoah flight as an effort to offset failure of the navy's Arctic and Hawaiian flights.

Col. Mitchell whose charges against the administration of the air service have brought the disciplinary forces of the war department into motion, is out with another statement declaring that if the department wants to take disciplinary action on the question of insubordination there will be no defense on his part.

Wilbur's Defutation

In his reply to criticism concerning the Shenandoah's flight, Secretary Wilbur declared the fact that the dirigible did not explode and was intact after the ship broke up, showed that the change in the escape valves was in no way responsible for the accident.

The contrary opinion of Captain Heinen also is challenged by Lieut. Commander Rosendahl, navigator and senior surviving officer of the Shenandoah, who declared in a statement at Lakehurst, N. J., that Heinen's supposition was "absolutely unreasonable." The naval officer treated Col. Mitchell's statements concerning the Shenandoah as a "big joke."

Blind Woman's Specially Made Watch is Returned

Chicago, Sept. 10.—(AP)—A year ago burglars entered the home of E. N. DeFower, president of the American Academy of Letters, through a kitchen window and stole jewelry, including a specially made wrist watch that enabled Mrs. DeFower, who is blind, to tell the time. There was said to be only one other watch like it in Chicago.

Tuesday night the same kitchen window was raised and a package pushed through. It contained the watch and this note:

"Jen Conners is dying. Want you to have this and pray for him. His pal."

The watch, called a minute repeater strikes the hours and quarter hours and is valued at $500.

Reduction of 20 Pct. in Sur-tax is Likely

Washington, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The treasury's recommendations to congress now are expected to include a reduction in sur-tax rates to a maximum of 20 percent, repeal of the income tax publicity section and a lowering, if not an entire elimination of the tax on estates.

Other minor changes will be suggested, largely to close up loopholes in the present law.

Treasury officials have not committed themselves finally to a 20 percent sur-tax maximum, but Mr. Mellon, who returned from a vacation today, believes the volume of return on that rate will be immediately greater than at a higher rate. At one time he even suggested that a 15 percent tax would be scientifically proper.

WITHDRAWAL OF SHOW GIRLS TO SAVE PAGEANT

National Beauty Contest
Was Endangered
by Their Entry

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Miss Dorothy Knapp and Miss Kathryn Ray, New York show girls, whose appearance as Miss Manhattan and Miss County Island in the National Beauty Tournament, now in progress here, threatened its disruption, today voluntarily withdrew from the contest.

In letters to the Pageant committee, they said they had taken the step rather than embarrass the pageant management.

"It was my belief that the public desired sheer beauty," wrote Miss Knapp, "regardless of the occupation of the contestant, but I have come to the conclusion that it is more desirable that the pageant honors shall be awarded to an amateur, and hope they will form precedent for the future. I also believe that all other professionals in the contest should withdraw."

Withdrawal of the two New York contestants will lead to the re-entry of Miss Mildred Walker (Miss Pittsburgh) and Miss Mary Guth (Miss Erie) who withdrew yesterday, according to M. D. Crandall, their manager. Crandall told the pageant management that unless Miss Knapp and Miss Ray withdrew voluntarily or were disqualified by noon today, Miss Pittsburgh and Miss Erie would depart for their homes immediately. Other women from Pennsylvania towns also were prepared to leave.

On behalf of the pageant directors, Director General Nicholas issued a statement in which it is emphasized that the pageant regulations are "as fair to one contestant as another," and that "the pageant is bigger than any individual or group of individuals in it" and that the committee did not intend to brook interference from anyone because of "petty jealousies."

Knights of Fiery Cross Discovered in Germany

Berlin, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Berlin is in a stir over the discovery that Germany is possessed of a new order—"The Knights of the Fiery Cross." One American and two German Americans are declared by the police to have started the organization, which seems to have gained some strength. Forty persons alleged to have been connected with it has been taken into custody and other arrests are declared imminent.

The "Knights of the Fiery Cross" have copied to some extent the ritual of the Ku Klux Klan. The insignia of the organization is a bloody cross, the black, red and white flag of imperial Germany and the anti-semitic swastika. The membership has been largely obtained from the "viking-bund" and the "frontbatt," notorious fascist groups.

It is the avowed purpose of the Knights to gather together men "determined to fight for the liberation of the fatherland" and "by waging war on Jews, to free the country of undesirable." The names of the American and German-Americans, who started the organization are being kept secret by the police.

Aviators' Coats Found Along Beach

Honolulu, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Two aviators' coats found on the Keaukaha beach, seven miles from Hilo, today gave hope of a clue to the fate of the crew of the missing seaplane PN-9-1, which dropped from sight with a crew of five men on Sept. 1 in this Pacific. The plane was on a non-stop flight to Honolulu and indicated in radio messages that her fuel supply was low and she might be forced down into a stormy sea.

Authorities were also investigating a report sent to the Advertiser from his Hilo correspondent which said: "Two Knapf life preserving jackets marked 'U. S. Navy' were found last night on the beach at Lelele Point, ten miles south of Hilo."

The jackets were delivered to a bath-tub today for inspection.

Dixon Dentists Prove They Can Get Big Ones

Two Dixon molar extractors who have been spending several days in the vicinity of Rhineclander, Wis., returned home late yesterday afternoon with proof sufficient to show that they were equally capable of extracting the big ones from the northern Wisconsin lakes. Dr. F. L. Hamilton and Dr. L. R. Evans exhibited to some of their friends five fine specimens of muskellunge. Each of the dentists succeeded in landing big ones, one weighing 32 and another 35 pounds.

Volley-Ballers to Have Reunion Saturday Eve

The new gymnasium at the Y. M. C. A.—for it looks like a new gym with its fresh coat of paint, will be the scene of a home coming of all last year's volleyballers next Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. They will have an open hand to greet all newcomers who wish to start at the very beginning of the season. This is the first game since last spring and from the talk around the lobby it will be a real game. The physical director is anxious to meet the players and get acquainted.

NEW MAN NOW IN CHARGE OF DIXON IMPLEMENT STORE

G. C. McKinstry Succeeds
Paul Utley in Local Institution

G. C. McKinstry, who has been connected with the sales force of the International Harvester Company of America for a great many years, has purchased an interest and will assume full charge of the Dixon Implement Company store here, succeeding Paul Utley, who has been compelled to retire because of poor health.

Mr. McKinstry's experience and ability in the farm machinery line is above the ordinary. The repairs service is to be improved immediately and the inventory of parts for machines used in this locality is being more than doubled in order to give the farmers prompt service on parts. In a few days a complete line of new samples will be on the sales floor for the inspection of customers in the vicinity of Dixon.

A good live implement store is one of the greatest assets for any town. Good repairs service draws hundreds of farmers from all over this territory for repairs and the average farmer always makes the town where the best parts service is available his headquarters and does a large share of his shopping in that city.

Dixon, located as it is, should be one of the largest implement centers in the state. It draws from a large territory and its many attractions, such as theatres and shopping district, naturally attract farmers from a large territory and good repairs service and a first-class implement establishment in our city is just one more reason why they should trade with us.

Y. M. C. A. ACTIVE THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE COUNTRY

Fine Reports Made at the State Convention
Hunt Declares

H. V. Hunt, who has just returned from the state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association held at Decatur, said this morning that the Association movement is in a period of unprecedented expansion throughout the entire country. Scores of young men during the past month have achieved well-nigh impossible goals in securing large sums for new buildings. The steady advance in bringing to realization the plans for expansion of the Chicago Association is one of the most outstanding demonstrations of statesmanlike strategy and achievement in the whole Association Movement. Over $5,000,000 was raised for expansion work. Thirty-two City Associations, serving a membership of 46,388 with buildings costing $9,549,411, are now in service to thousands of young men of Illinois.

One of the outstanding features of association work is the Summer Camp. It will be remembered that the local Association carried on one of the best and largest boys camps in this part of the state. The continued enlargement of summer camp work for boys throughout the state is most encouraging. There are now twenty-eight camps operated by the Associations of the state, which this year will enroll approximately six thousand boys. During the year $69,636.00 has been expended in new camp properties and improvements.

The summer camp has proven to be one of our most effective methods for the development of strong, virile, Christian young manhood and for challenging boys to higher and better conceptions of life.

In physical work there are in Illinois fifty trained physical directors with part time assistants and 655 volunteer leaders are directing the work of the Physical Department, serving both the membership and the community through leagues, "learn-to-swim" campaigns, and other extension phases of the Physical Department, thus bringing the message of physical education to thousands outside the membership. Thirty-four thousand eight hundred thirty-nine different members were enrolled in some phase of Physical work during the past year.

The Y. M. C. A. looks like a painters' union meeting these days. Things are brightening up—that is the House Committee and Physical Committee are both busy getting the building in shape for a busy winter season. The gymnasium has had a fresh coat of paint and has been marked off for volleyball, basketball, handball, and so on. The swimming pool will be ready for use next Monday. The lobby and rooms are being painted, and the kitchen is also being gone over which will be welcome news to the many ladies organizations using the equipment.

Scientists Will Go to Sumatra to See Eclipse

Northfield, Minn., Sept. 10.—(AP)—A number of the nationally known scientists attending the annual convention of the American Astronomical Society here today, plan to visit the island of Sumatra for the total eclipse of the sun, visible there on January 1926.

The main urge behind this movement is the fact that many of the visiting astronomers were prevented by cloudy weather from viewing the solar eclipse last January.

Special Rehearsal of Boys' Band Friday P. M.

A special rehearsal of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Band will be held at the association building at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. All members of the band who expect to go to Chicago Tuesday with the Kiwanis Club are urged to attend this special rehearsal.

Special Election to Be Held in Franklin

A special election held in Franklin Grove Tuesday on the proposition of floating a bond issue in the sum of $12,500 to provide for the extension of water mains in the city carried by a vote of three to one.

HOPE ARREST OF FIVE MAY BRING CLUE IN MURDER

Youths Held for Egg-ing Home of Dead
W. C. T. U. Woman

Vinton, Ia., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Five youths, Louis Glichrst, Pete Tritten, George Thomas, Walter Long and Merlin Swartbaugh, are under arrest here charged with defacing a private residence, as the result of a confession alleged to have been made by Swartbaugh at the coroner's inquest in which he is quoted as saying these boys were members of a gang which noted the home of Mrs. Myrtle Cook, W. C. T. U. president, who was assassinated, on Monday night.

Coroner Modlin said that the youths were not taken in connection with the slaying, but they were arrested in the hope that they might supply information which would lead to a clue. Warrants were also issued for two other youths in connection with the egg throwing incident.

A motive for the killing different from that previously included in the theories of the officers has been established, they said. It was first thought that Mrs. Cook had been slain by bootleggers or rum runners.

MANY FOLLOWERS OF FOOTBALL IN OFFERS TO HELP

Some Sentiment in Dixon
for Strong Team Here
This Fall

Football fans are clamoring for something which will insure a continuance of the game in Dixon again this season. Fanciers of this class of sport have signified their intention of volunteering to support, in more than one way, another team this fall. The time is ripe when candidates for a football team should be reporting and getting into shape for the opening of the season. There are many other things to be accomplished before a schedule can be successfully opened in Dixon and the local fans are looking forward to some word which will insure football again this season.

During the past few days there has been a great deal of talk among the supporters of this sport as to who will head a team this season. It is rumored that the local post of the American Legion is contemplating sending a strong aggregation back into the field and definite action will be taken at a meeting to be held Tuesday evening. The Legion team has always given a fine grade of football to the fans of Dixon and vicinity and the post is deserving of unanimous support should it decide to continue, according to the general opinion of fans who are interested sufficiently to offer financial aid in launching a successful and strong aggregation.

Ample Material

A canvass of the situation by those closely connected with the game in Dixon shows ample material with which to organize a strong team at once. Dee, who made such a creditable showing in the center position last year, is making Dixon his home and is willing to get back into his mole skins. Sheriff Risley has confided to many of his friends that he finished his career on the gridiron last fall, but while he is locked up in a dark room for a week, suffering with a severe case of eye trouble, the fans believe that with the call to report for duty that he would be willing to get back in the line.

Hess, Vaughan, Gardner, Whipple, Berg, Schofield, Austin, Whitcombe, Riordan, and others are in readiness to answer a call to report for practice and are valuable adjuncts to an organization of this kind. Rochelle is organizing what appears to be a strong team and games are already being booked by many of the other eleven, which will of necessity require immediate action if maintaining a strong representative team here this season.

Views of fans on the subject will be welcomed by the sporting editor of the Telegraph.

Johnson Wins Trophy in Men's Tennis Game

Bill Johnson won tennis honors for the city of Dixon in men's singles when he defeated Fred Hoffman on the Y. M. C. A. tennis courts Labor Day. The whole tournament has been keenly contested and in the finals it looked to many as though Hoffman had the big end of the stick but Johnson pulled a surprise for both his opponent and those in the bleachers in the second set when he beat Hoffman by 6-2. Both were in splendid form and the score is no indication of the close playing. The second set was 4-6; 6-4; 6-4. A silver loving cup was presented to Mr. Johnson.

President is Ready to Plunge Into His Labor

President Coolidge special en route to Washington, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Well rested by his eleven weeks stay at Swampscott, President Coolidge was traveling back to Washington ready to plunge into the tasks of his office immediately. The train is due in the capital late today and tomorrow the President will open his office with a cabinet meeting.

While no special problem caused a termination of the summer residence at White Court, Mr. Coolidge is anxious to take up several matters personally with his advisers, the cabinet, appointment of an ambassador to Tokyo, final preparations of the budget estimates and other questions dealing with the administration's legislative program for the next session of congress.

Chicago District Golf Tourney Opens Sept. 16

Chicago, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Serving as a curtain raiser for the professional Rogers association championship, the open tournament of the Chicago district golf association has been set for Sept. 16 at Briarcliff Club, Chicago. It was announced today by Secretary Davis. The event will be open to all amateurs and professionals with prizes for medal play and for amateur and professional team matches.

COUNTY JAIL IS AGAIN UP BEFORE SUPERVISORS BODY

But No Action Taken on Plans for New Garage There

For a brief period during yesterday afternoon's session of the county board, the building committee had their fellow supervisors guessing and for the moment it was expected that Lee county's condemned and antiquated jail was to be replaced with a new structure or extensive repairs recommended on the present one. The committee presented plans and specifications to the open board for the construction of a new garage on the county property in the rear of the jail. At the June meeting the committee was instructed to secure these plans to be presented at this session.

No recommendation accompanied the plans and specifications, however, and one member of the committee explained this by stating that the committee had questioned the advisability of spending any large amount of money at this time in the building of a new garage, when there was a possibility of such a department being included in a new county jail building.

"If the building committee entertaining any plan at this time toward the construction of a new county jail?" asked Supervisor Bauer of Hamilton.

"No, not at this time, but from conditions that prevail, this board may find that something will have to be done in the next year or so," replied Chairman Frank Sproul of the building committee, who added "we have either got to have a new jail or make some extensive repairs on the present one very soon."

The plans and specifications were referred back to the building committee to present a report at this meeting.

The judiciary committee presented a report in which they recommended the allowance of the applications for blind pensions for John W. Smythe and Lillian Harned of this city and David William of Scarborough. The application of Pearl Cook of this city was disallowed.

Four Thieves Caught by Police of Normal

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Normal police officers last night announced the apprehension of the four burglars who robbed the store of Geo. Anderson at Wing, Ill., and a touring car belonging to Bill Hoke of that town.

They were taken to the city hall where they confessed. The bandits ranged in age from 21 to 35. They were Adrian Bennett, of Kentucky; Kenneth Wells, Wing, Ill.; Clarence Hendrickson, Terra Haute, Ind.; and Eugene Weaver of Belleville.

More than a thousand articles were taken from the store and when taken from the car completely filled the table in the city hall heaping to the sides.

Three Home Runs by Yanks in Succession

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Successful home runs were made by Bob Meusel, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the Yankees in the fourth inning of the first game of a double header with the Athletics today. Gray was pitched out of the time.

It was Meusel's 25th homer of the year. He was the first man up and it was the first hit off Gray. Ruth followed with his seventeenth circuit wallop of the season and Gehrig repeated the performance also his 11th of the year.

First Hike for Boys to Be Held This Saturday

Saturday has been set for the first fall hike for the boys' department. Hikers will leave the "Y" at 9:30 for an all day hike and each boy will bring his own grub to consist of anything he wishes to cook over a fire. Cooking tests will be given and to every boy who passes the test will be given a free army haversack with shoulder straps.

The hike will be under the direction of E. A. Snapp, the new physical director, and it is expected a big crowd will be "rarin' to go" next Saturday.

Paper Mill's Straw was Destroyed in Big Blaze

Keokuk, Iowa, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Fire loss at the Hinde Daugh Paper Plant at Fort Madison, is estimated at $160,000, with about one fourth covered by insurance. Sixteen straw stacks were destroyed yesterday in the two fires which called out Burlington and Keokuk fire departments in addition to the Fort Madison firemen. The blaze did not reach the plant which in itself is fire proof. The burning straw piles were drenched with water, but will continue to smolder for weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ballou have returned to Dixon after an absence of two years. During this time they have traveled in their car a great deal of the time, spending considerable time in Florida liking the country very much. They have visited during the two years, almost every state in the Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McCune of Chicago, have returned home after a pleasant visit at the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E

Banker, Threatened in

Letters, Asks for Aid

Montclair, N. J., Sept. 10.—(AP)—

James A. Bower, vice president of the New York Trust Co., whose chauffeur was wounded last Friday in attempting to rescue six-year-old Mary Daly from a Harrison Noel, confessed kidnapper and slayer of the child today appealed to police for protection stating he had received two threatening letters.

Receipt of the letters caused a revival of assertions that Noel had an accomplice in kidnapping the child and in slaying Raymond Pierce, a negro chauffeur to obtain possession of the latter's car. Investigators have rejected such a theory.

I walked through the woodland meadows,
Where sweet the thrushes sing;
And I found on a bed of mosses
A bird with a broken wing.
I healed its wound, and each morn-

It sang the old sweet strain,
But the bird with the broken pinion
Never soared on high again.

I found a young life broken
By a sin's seductive art;
And touched with Christ-like pity,
I took him to my heart.
He lived with a noble purpose
And struggled not in vain;
But the life that sin had stricken
Never soared as high again.

But the bird with the broken pinion
Kept another from the snare
And the life that sin had stricken
Raised another from despair.
Each loss has its own compensation,
There is healing for every pain;
But the bird with a broken pinion
Never soared as high again.
—Hezekiah Butterworth.

S. S. Class Elected Officers For Year

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY.

Breakfast—

Baked pears, cereal, thin cream, crisp rye toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—

Corn custards with broiled tomatoes, graham bread and butter sandwiches, peach and rice pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—

Smothered veal cutlets, mashed potatoes, creamed celery, cabbage salad, whole wheat bread, grape gelatine, sponge cake, milk, coffee.

The cabbage salad suggested for the dinner menu is made of finely shredded cabbage seasoned with lemon juice, salt and a bit of sugar. If you have never tried lemon juice in place of vinegar with cabbage try it the next time you serve cabbage. It's three times as good and six times as healthful.

Corn Custards with Broiled Tomatoes.

One cup corn cut from the cob, 6 slices broiled tomato, 6 tablespoons grated cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon onion juice, two-third cup milk, eggs.

Beat eggs well with milk, salt and sugar. Add corn and onion juice and mix well. Turn into six well-buttered custard cups. Place in a pan of hot water and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven. When firm to the touch the custards are done. In the meantime cut tomatoes in slices about 1 inch thick, sprinkle with salt and pepper and a little sugar. Dip in cracker crumbs, egg slightly beaten and again in crumbs. Broil six or eight minutes in a well-buttered broiler. Arrange on a hot, heat-proof platter. When custards are done remove from cups and put one on each slice of tomato. Sprinkle with grated cheese and put in a very hot oven just long enough to melt and brown the cheese. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY CYNTHIA GREY—

We might have known it would come, the "Anti-Bobbing Association." "Bobbed hair has really ceased to be a fad, it has become quite an established thing. Hairdressers and milliners have accepted it and have perfected hats that fit the shorn head. But no woman has been forcedly sheared. It would seem as if we might now let the matter rest and allow each woman to follow the dictates of her own conscience. But no, up bobs an international movement to discourage the bobbing of women's hair. It is too much to hope that some day we may become civilized enough to believe in personal liberty? Doesn't it seem silly to form an international organization for such a trivial thing as regulating the length of hair where there are so many useful jobs that should be done to promote better understanding between nations and promote more livable conditions?

And can you picture what a vacuum must be inside of the head that conceived such an international undertaking?

Wouldn't it be better if we could have an international organization to put something inside such cavities?

The reason most women bob their hair is because it is more convenient and requires less time to arrange. It is more comfortable, sanitary, becoming, and generally suited to our modern lives.

Certainly there is room for reform today, but an international association to stop bobbed hair is not the most urgent one. When we have something that is sensible and at the same time fashionable, let's not jeopardize it.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

To Fit the Candlestick.

A candle may be made to fit any candlestick if dipped for a moment in very hot water.

Vinegars.

Fancy vinegars sell for fancy prices. And they are usually very weak. You can easily make your own vinegars and save money besides having a vinegar of extra strength.

Salad Oil.

Many people find peanut and cottonseed oil as pleasant as olive oil for salads and the cost is a third less.

FASHION HINTS—

Wrap Coats.

In the new coat collections the wrappy style stands at pre-eminently as a style feature. The wrappy sleeves are attained on straightline models, while the flared styles are shown with fitted sleeves.

Paris Frocks.

Paris frocks carry the fleet of a belt fullness given by gathers. Sleeves are either very short or to the wrist, widened at the bottom and always with a gathering at the cuff.

GINGHAM—

(By Hal Cochran.)

Let's take a stroll down a long winding lane where nature has flourished at will. You never seek for rest and for comfort in vain, for there's rest in peaceful and still.

The path is a white road that leads to a farm. A country lass greets with a smile. She's come from her milking with pail on her arm. Mere gingham and bonnet's her style.

A breath of the old times—that's just what she seems. A maiden of old-fashioned ways. The girl man has pictured when lost in his dreams; in times when his sentiment plays.

Alas, lass of the country, you're looking so real; you're just as God meant you to be. A look and a chat, and it's easy to feel that there's realness where realness should be.

Now turn to the modern, the fashion and style, and tell me your candid belief. Is all of the put-on and make-up worth while? Aren't gingham and realness relief?

Wedding and Family Reunion

On Tuesday morning, August 18, a company of fifty-three relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Baker, adjoining Ogema, to witness the marriage of their youngest daughter, Donnafrad Mary, to Mr. Wilbur Lee Hoff, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hoff, of Nachusa, Ill., who were both present at the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister Katherine and the groom by his brother Edgar. The single ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Earl A. Roadman, professor of religion and rural education at Upper Iowa University, Fayette, Iowa. Preceding the ceremony Mr. Edgar Hoff rendered a violin solo and Rev. A. K. Voss sang "O Perfect Love," both accompanied by Miss Hazel Hoff, sister of the groom.

The bride wore a simple gown of white Canton crepe with corsage of sweet peas and white roses, and for "something old" a quaintly beautiful brooch of rubies once worn by her mother's grandmother as a bride in Inverness, Scotland, ninety-eight years ago.

The bride is a graduate of the Detroit high school and a Junior at Upper Iowa University. The groom is a graduate of Cornell College, was for two years instructor at Iowa State Agricultural College, and has been professor of chemistry at Upper Iowa University for the past two years.

Sweet peas, pink hibiscus and blue larkspur set the color note for the profusion of flowers adorning the rooms, many of which came from the Schermerhorn ranch garden at Mahomet.

The wedding was the occasion of a reunion of the family of F. H. Baker, of Decorah, Iowa, there being present Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Schermerhorn, of Minneapolis; Mrs. Kate F. Hawkins, of Amesbury, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baker and Mrs. Grace E. Beard, of Decorah; besides Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker and all of the eighteen grandchildren except Margaret, eldest sister of the bride who last June was united in marriage to Charles Spencer Hoyt, of Hudson, Wyoming; and Miss Margaret Schermerhorn, now touring in Europe. The Misses Edna and Dora Carter, of Fayette, sisters of Mrs. Fred Baker, completed the family circle on both sides.

After a dainty wedding breakfast the bride and groom departed in a flyover for Yellowstone Park and after this trip and brief visits with Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt, at Hudson, and the groom's parents at Nachusa, Ill., the couple will return to Fayette to resume college duties and be at home to friends after Sept. 15th.

Other out-of-town guests were Melvin Davis, of Monona, Ia., great uncle of the bride; Mrs. Earl A. Roadman and children, of Fayette, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baker and daughter, Cleone, of Detroit.

The Record joins with other friends of the bride in extending felicitations. The foregoing article is taken from an Ogema, Minnesota, paper and will be of much interest to Nachusa and Dixon friends.

Sterling Fireman Married Here

Mrs. Mary Huntley of Rock Falls and Elmer Barley of Sterling were united in marriage Saturday morning in Dixon at the Methodist parsonage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Aubrey S. Moore. The couple left shortly afterward by motor for Sandwich, Ill., where they are spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester McFalls and family. Mrs. McFalls is a daughter of Mrs. Barley. Mr. Barley is a member of the Sterling fire department. They will make their home on Fourth avenue, Rock Falls, after their return.

RIGHT TO PEDESTRIANS.

Gradually out of a maze of traffic regulations are being evolved some rights for pedestrians, rules designed to make movement from one side of a street to another safe. For a time all laws were formulated to speed up the automobile traffic. We have had a penchant for running it all over a few lines called arterial highways. There the pedestrian takes his chances in crossing the street. Drivers care not how long the walker has waited. Let him wait until there is a lull in the traffic.

All of that has seemed right, because none did differently. Now some cities are striking out in another direction. Sometimes it is the automobile traffic that is required to stop and give way to the pedestrian.

The Indianapolis News, noting that Indianapolis is behind in the matter of safety to pedestrians, cites progress in Minneapolis and Los Angeles.

Practically all regulation is for the benefit of the vehicles," says the News, referring to Indianapolis. "The pedestrian who waits for the proper signal hardly starts until he has to dodge back to escape a car that has turned the corner. The result is that pedestrians cross anywhere they have a chance, walk against traffic signals, and progress from one vantage point to another as best they may."

The description fits any city that makes rules all for the benefit of the vehicle.

Describing the Minneapolis plan, the News says:

"The Minneapolis plan contemplates a period of eleven seconds between signals to vehicular traffic. During that eleven-second interval no traffic moves in any direction. The pedestrian has the sole right of way and uses it. The system has just been adopted and the public still has to be educated to its use, but preliminary observation, according to Minneapolis newspapers, tends to indicate that it will be satisfactory."

In Los Angeles the "safety" zone for the pedestrian is for him to walk in, not for him to stand in until he has a chance to dodge out between passing machines. Such zones are not in the business district, where another method of control is used. With reference to the Los Angeles plan, the News says:

"Los Angeles has a system of automatic bell signals with intervals for pedestrians to cross the street. Such policemen as are stationed at street intersections are supplementary. Nobody moves until a bell rings. Between traffic signals the people walk without fear that the motorist will run over them. In the residential districts of Los Angeles safety zones have been painted and whenever a pedestrian steps into such passage way an automobile driver must stop. He can not start again until the pedestrian is out of the zone."

Wisdom is not given to any of us to say one way is right and another way is wrong. Only experience can determine what best is the manner in which to preserve safety to the pedestrian. It is enough to note that large cities are recognizing that something needs to be done, that traffic problems have not been solved until consideration is given to the person on foot as well as to the one on wheels.

In the business district the average city gives a measure of protection, limited in the manner the News describes, by officers and automatic signals. Elsewhere the pedestrian has no right not conceded by the driver, and on arterial highways few drivers concede any.

Minneapolis and Los Angeles may be showing the way. Their experiments will be watched with interest.

FALL BUSINESS STEADY.

Summarized, business reports on the eve of the opening of fall trade show these outstanding facts:

The movement of trade is larger than has been known in many years in this season.

The volume of credit is without parallel in our financial history.

Demand for that credit from commerce and industry is small.

Rates of interest are low.

Persistently the prices puzzle both sides. Producers and sellers try to keep them up. Buyers in many lines are able to keep them down. When efforts are made to put them above present levels, the falling off in demand forces them back. Experts say the prices are being maintained a point too high.

It is problematical what levels prices in general will take when summer dullness gives way to fall demands.

Stocks are maintained at a high point and may go higher. Experts make no prediction as to what direction they will take as trade increases.

People are cautioned to be optimistic, but not to bank on a boom.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL NEEDED.

With the opening of the school term in Dixon the great need for more school accommodations are emphasized. Dixon schools are greatly overcrowded. Practically all of the rooms are crammed full and the teachers have classes that are too large for the most efficient teaching. We have children on front seats with no desks in front of them. The capacity of the Dixon schools has not only been reached, but it has been greatly over-reached.

Is not Dixon and vicinity prosperous enough to provide adequate school accommodations for its youth? A new community high school will solve the problem. It is high time we had it.

Having done more than any other one man to abolish the horse, Henry Ford suggests abolishing the cow also.

It takes only twenty days' labor on the farm, he says, to raise the cow's food. All the rest of the time is spent in taking care of the cow herself, as an exceedingly inefficient manufacturer of that food into milk.

Let someone invent a machine to manufacture the same materials into synthetic milk, and most of the labor now devoted to dairymaking can be diverted to doing something else.

He is already establishing his own plants, for certain products, in farming districts, so as to employ the farmers in their slack time.

But dairy farmers are of no use for this. They have to work all the time at their farming.

So hail the milk-making machine—when somebody invents it.

Doubtless scattering factories among the farms is a good thing.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 16—A TRIP THROUGH ITALY

"When we left Florence we went to a place called Pisa where there is a tower about to fall over."

"Where else did you go?" Nick asked the bright little traveler clock when he had finished telling about Egypt.

"Lots of places," said the little clock. "One place I loved was Italy." "What was it like?" asked Nick.

"You might just as well ask 'What is the world like?'" sighed the little clock. "Italy is not only a big country and full of big cities, but it is full of all sorts of other things as well. There is a mountain that boils at the top and you can see smoke and real fire coming out. I really would not believe my eyes. I saw it the first thing when my master took me out of my case and set me on a stand where I had a direct view of the window. That was at a city called Naples. The sea there is as blue as blue-water on washing day, and so is the sky. It was lovely, I tell you."

"Where else did you go?" asked Nancy.

"My, my! You will have me talked to death," sputtered the clock. "We went to another place called Venice. That's a city in Italy, too."

"Is it on the sea like Naples?" asked Nick.

"I'll say it is," said the clock. "Not on the sea, but in it. Right in it, you might say. What on earth the houses stand on, I don't know, for the streets and alleys and everything are water. You have to go about in boats instead of buses or taxis or trolley cars."

"I know," said Tick Tock. "You said it yourself. The houses stand on earth, on real earth. Little tiny islands—that's what the houses are built on."

"Well, I declare!" cried the astonished little clock. "Will wonders never cease! There is a lovely church there, too—or cathedral as it is called. Its name is St. Marks."

"Then we went to another city in Italy," said the clock. "Or are you tired listening. Maybe I am going too fast."

"No, No!" cried the Twins. "Please go on."

"The next city my master took me to in Italy was called Florence. That's a girl's name and easy to remember. That's the place where there are more miles of fine paintings and pictures than anywhere else in the world. I didn't see them, but my master did. The say you could live a hundred years in that place and not know all about it, it is so old and interesting. One place I did see was a funny old bridge with shops on each side. Goldsmiths and silversmiths have these shops and make a lot of jewelry that travelers buy. My master bought a lot of things to take home to his friends. Cameos and corals, all set in fine carvings."

"When we left Florence we went to a place called Pisa where there is a high tower about to fall over. It made me nervous."

"Then I saw a beautiful lake and—"

"There! You are all fixed now," said Tick Tock. "We'll have to go."

"I know lots more," said the clock. "I feel so fine now, I could talk all night."

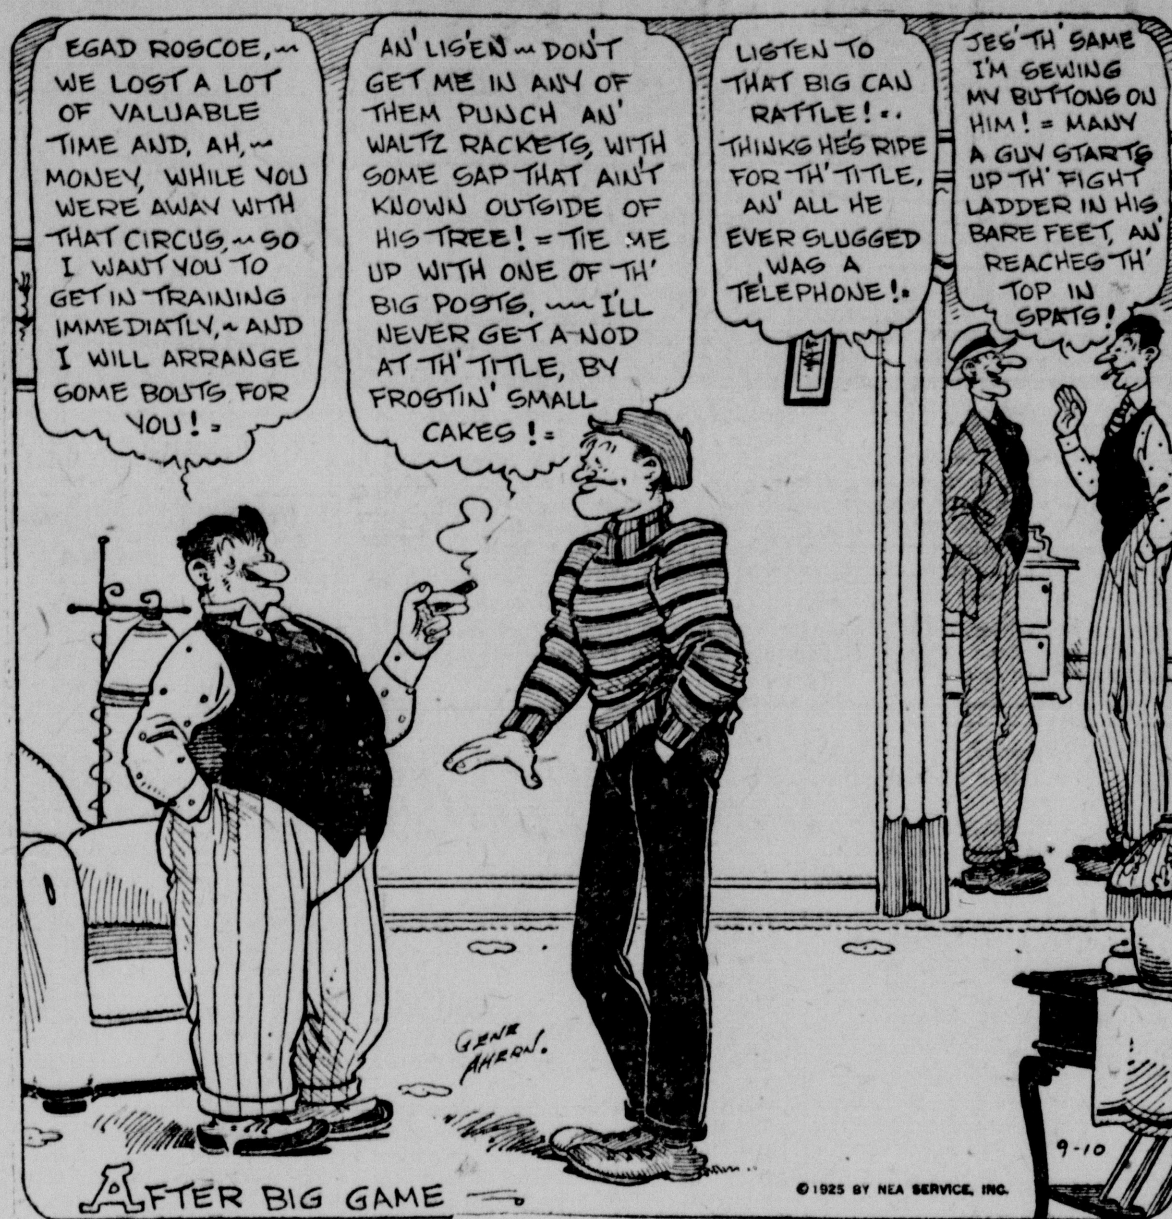

"Thank you, little clock," said the Twins, "but we really must be going."

FORMER DIXON WOMAN CALLED IN LOS ANGELES

Mrs. W. N. Gilbert is Summued by Maker August 28th

The Redondo, California, Daily Breeze of Saturday, Aug. 29, contained the following obituary of Mrs. W. N. Gilbert, formerly of this city:

Mrs. Clara E. Gilbert, wife of

W. N. Gilbert of 131 East 8th street, Los Angeles, died yesterday at her home in Los Angeles after a lingering illness. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Monday from Cate's chapel. Burial will be in the beautiful Inglewood cemetery.

Mrs. Gilbert, formerly lived in Redondo Beach, the home being at 322 North Francisco avenue. Both she and her husband made many friends during their stay at the beach.

Mrs. Gilbert was born in Pennsylvania in 1858 and was raised on a farm in Stephenson county, Illinois. She was married in 1878 and the Gilberts left Illinois for Sioux Falls, S. D.

Six years ago the Gilberts left South Dakota for California and picked out Redondo as an ideal place of residence. They bought a home on North Francisco and spent three happy years there.

Three years ago the Gilberts moved to Los Angeles, but never forgot their happy stay at Redondo. Mrs. Gilbert suffered from diabetes, with complications. The end was a peaceful one. And, despite the grief, the husband feels that his beloved wife was released from suffering and pain.

Mrs. Gilbert leaves six children, three living in South Dakota and three in Los Angeles. She also had several sisters and brothers scattered about in various places in the east.

RE-DISCOVERING ILLINOIS

By LESTER B. CROSBY

Illinois Chamber of Commerce

Imagine a train load of bricks 1767 miles long. Imagine 3,500,000,000 bricks. Some bricks. I have just looked in on Danville, home of the brick. Also home of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, now in his 89th year. Uncle Joe holds the American long distance record in congress—but I started to tell about bricks.

F. W. Butterworth is general manager of the Western Brick Co., of Danville. It is credited with being the largest manufacturer of face brick in the United States. I asked Mr. Butterworth about bricks. He said, rather casually:

"This company makes about 13,000 carloads of bricks a year. That's enough enough to build 9000 average sized homes."

Have you ever stopped to think how many bricks it took to build the buildings in the loop district in Chicago? I was told that pretty nearly all of the loop bricks came out of Danville, the bricks in the new Union League Club, the new Sherman House Annex, the new Ellet Block and the Allerton house being some of the newer buildings built of Danville brick.

Danville has just received the order for the bricks for the great Stevens hotel—now under construction—3,000,000 bricks—the biggest single brick order for any one building in years, perhaps a record for all time. It was while we were talking about these things that the estimate of Danville's total production, since the industry started in 1800, was made. It was put at 3,500,000,000 bricks.

Yes, many bricks. Danville's total production of bricks, we figured would make a solid train 1767 miles long, a train that would stretch from New York to Chicago and then south about to New Orleans. Its yearly production, at present figures, a train 95 miles long. Statistics are a bit startling sometimes.

The four separate companies operating a string of plants circling Danville can ship out of Danville, in a pinch, 100 carloads of brick every twenty-four hours. The brick industry in Danville employs approximately 1000 men and burns about 450 tons of coal a day.

Oh, yes, coal—The brick and coal industry in Danville are closely interlocked. A good many years ago, Mike Kelly, now dead, got the idea that surface soil could be moved off and the shallow veins of coal about Danville mined right out in the open. That was the birth of the "strip mine."

Today the strip mine industry is developed to a higher degree around Danville than anywhere else in the country. Big shovels are used, specially made, larger than those used in digging the Panama Canal, the operators told me.

Mike's old properties have drifted into the hands of the United States Fuel Company, fuel subsidiary of the United States Steel company. The United Electric Coal company operates the largest strip mine in the country. Its output runs, I was told, about 1,500,000 tons a year.

Sixty mines around Danville give work to about 4000 men. Quite a few of the boys have done well. Take John G. Harthorn and his brother, W. G. They got to collecting strip mine properties, beginning with next to nothing. Not long ago they sold out for $2,500,000.

Coal and bricks work along together pretty well around here. For example the Western Brick company's properties were selected for a reason. As they are worked a stratum of clay is laid bare and then a stratum of coal. Then comes another stratum of clay and another of coal.

Clay goes into brick and coal makes the fuel. Simple, isn't it?

Probably third among the industries of Danville is zinc, representing chiefly by the Hegler Zinc company. This industry has been built up here largely because of transportation and fuel supply.

There's another little story of Danville. H. E. Horneman arrived in town one day in 1910 with $700. He went to manufacturing butter. His output now runs, he told me, about 28,000,000 pounds yearly. He is president of the Sugar Creek Creamery company credited with being the third largest producer of creamery butter in the U. S. A.

He has branches in Louisville, Ky., Indianapolis and Evansville, Ind., St. Louis and Marshfield, Mo., Panama, Waseka and Jackson, Fla. He still lives in Danville. I found him at the fair grounds looking over the cows.

And that's something else again. Danville is the home of the Illinois and Indiana Fair association which takes in a group of counties on each side of the line. It is one of the biggest fairs in the state and has an outside amusement park in connection open all summer. Speaking of amusements—have you heard of Danville's lake?

Decatur built itself a lake not long ago so Danville took an inventory of its lake possibilities. Engineers found that by damming a narrow neck of the Vermilion river just out of Danville a lake a mile wide and six miles long could be deep. The water will average from twenty to forty feet deep.

The dam is in and water is backing up. It will take the winter rains, probably, to fill the great reservoir which will hold 2,500,000,000 gallons. But in suites of that a yacht club has been formed, subdivisions are being opened along the future shore and the golf club is preparing to open a new 18 hole course where boating and golfing can be combined.

Danville is a clean and snappy town. Brick, perhaps, can be credited a lot for that. Homes throughout the city, especially the newer ones, are being built of face brick. The business part is well built—of brick. It makes a good appearance.

Folk in Danville are preparing to celebrate the city's 100th anniversary. Its first subdivision was opened in 1817. But nothing mentioned above had anything to do with starting Danville. It was something else.

Before the town was there, settlers arriving found a salt spring. Indians had long boiled the water down and made salt. Whites, following suit, made salt, developed an industry. The nucleus for the town was formed.

Later, with railroads, salt could be brought in cheaper and that ended that. As the first pioneers came the wave of New England settlers filled Illinois to the north as Virginia and Carolinians filtered into the southern part. Danville was the meeting place of the two waves. Uncle Joe Cannon was born in Carolina.

The Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad was Danville's first direct connection with Chicago, 124 miles due north. That road established its main shops in Danville and employs about 2000 men. Danville now has five main lines of railroad and is on two principal concrete highways. It enjoys the same freight rates as Chicago.

Out of this situation has developed a firmly established group of small factories. Metal industries probably lead among these. The population was 16,000 in 1900 and it is now estimated at 41,500.

They must talk a lot in Danville. R. C. Rottger, vice president and general manager of the Vermilion county Telephone Company tells me that there is a phone to every 4.8 person in the city. The company operates 24,291 miles of wire and 37 miles of underground cable. Figures do surprise you sometimes.

Danville will show its products and tell its story at the Illinois Products Exposition to be held in the American Exposition Palace, 656 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, October 8-17. Sixty-five Illinois cities and more than 200 Illinois industries will participate in this remarkable exposition.

(This is one of a series of articles entitled "Re-Discovering Illinois." The next will be published soon.)

Veterans Bureau Has Made Great Savings

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—By cutting down expenses all along the line, the Veterans Bureau which has required nearly half a billion dollars to operate in the last few years, returned to the treasury $69,701,000 of its appropriation of $481,957,898 for the fiscal year ending June 30 last.

The saving, a detailed report of which has just been made to Director Lord of the budget by Frank T. Hines, director of the Bureau was made despite an increase in compensation payments for disability and death benefits from $115,494,961 for the fiscal year 1924-25 to $129,597,457 last year. The increase of more than $14,000,000 was due largely to liberalizing provisions of the world war veterans act of last year.

Further economies are promised by Director Hines.

Price or Cost

The cost of your battery before you get through with it—or before it gets through with you—depends upon three things: (1) The price; (2) How long it lasts; (3) What you have to pay for repairs to keep it on the job.

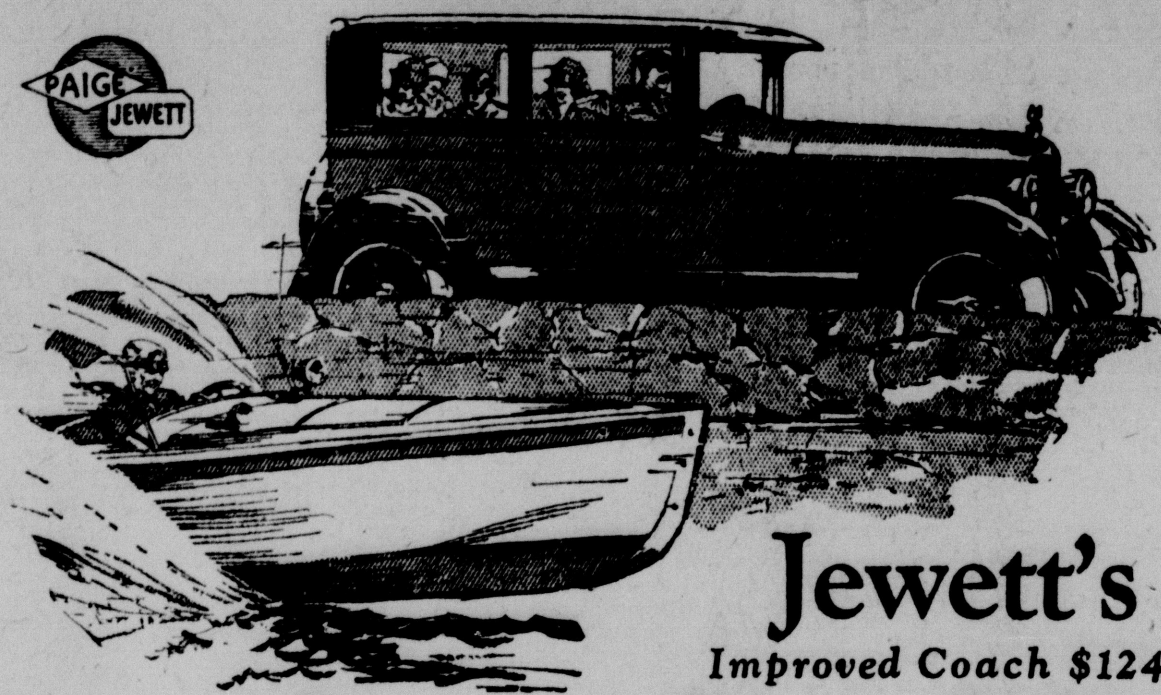

The Exide Battery has always been recognized by experienced drivers as the most economical because of its long service and its freedom from repairs.

"Never a Car Like This—Never Such Value!"

Jewett's Improved Coach $1245

Larger—Roomier—Easier Riding

More entrance space than any Coach. Enter or leave rear without disturbing those in front

Many Important Improvements!

A new air-cleaner adds years of service—insures clean air—clean oil—clean cylinders. Greater freedom from carbon, scored cylinders, worn bearings—increased motor life are the results. Light switch is conveniently at hand on the steering gear. Indirect lighting on the dash eliminates glare. Gear shift and emergency brake levers are moved forward to provide clear floor space in front—and many other improvements.

If you're driving any $2000 car, we ask you frankly to compare it in roominess—beauty—quality—performance—with the improved Jewett Coach.

You'll thrill as you never have before at its amazing pick-up and go. Able, efficient power that's as silent as it is able. Because it's a Jewett. With all the vigor—snap and sturdiness that has built national admiration around this famous car.

Jewett Coach is always respected in traffic—master of toughest hills—and a pleasure to drive on the open road.

And it's performance that instills confidence as you drive. Jewett Coach costs but little more than ordinary cars and is worth much more. Jewett would not sacrifice quality for the sake of a few dollars in the purchase price. But you get a fine car with no worry of upkeep cost. Facts prove that. Ask us about it.

Jewett sales increased 131% in August over last year. These figures tell their own story.

Engineering—designing triumph that it was, Jewett Coach improved is a far greater car now. It handles with unmatched ease. It rides any road in comfort, due to increased length—new spring action.

You want roominess! Power—beauty—speed—quality—of course. But roominess above all else in a Coach. Jewett Coach has roominess! More length has just been added to the already roomy body. Leg room front and rear increased.

Jewett Coach is here—now! Ready to show you what all this improvement means to you—yourself at the wheel. By all means examine and test this great car before you buy. (617-3)

One-Profit Value Unit-Built Construction

Make Studebakers Bargains in Quality

BECAUSE Studebaker builds for Studebaker cars all bodies, all engines, all axles, clutches, differentials, steering gear, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings and drop forgings—it is possible to give purchasers two advantages:

1. A price advantage: Because Studebaker eliminates extra profits which all other manufacturers (except Ford) must pay to outside parts or body makers. Thus Studebaker is able to use steel of extra toughness, fine northern white ash and hard maple, wool upholstery, plate glass, painstaking workmanship to precision standards, and extra equipment, such as gasoline gauge, clock, stop light, etc.—yet charge no more than competing cars.

2. A construction advantage: Because all parts are not only designed to constitute one harmonious unit, but are Unit-Built in Studebaker plants. Being built as a unit, every Studebaker functions as a unit. This results in years longer life, scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation, greater riding comfort, minimum repair costs and, finally, higher resale value.

The net of it is this: the one-profit Studebaker with its unit-built construction offers you a bargain in quality.

There are others in our general price field who also build quality cars. But for models that are at all comparable their prices are higher.

Truth in Advertising

A reader of The Saturday Evening Post wrote the editor questioning the truth of a Studebaker advertisement. Read our reply on page 71 of the current issue of "The Post."

Others, who once built quality cars, have made material sacrifice in order to secure superficial price advantages. These cars are good value for the man or woman who wants that kind of a car. But if he wants a bargain in quality there is only one answer—Studebaker.

Consider, for instance, the Standard Six Coach, illustrated above. It has wool upholstery; plate glass; fine trim to hide all tacks; heavy ornamental hardware; clock; gasoline gauge on dash; automatic windshield cleaner; stop light; locks on ignition; steering gear, door and spare-tire carrier all operated by a single key.

Slam the door and the sound says "quality." Swing on the door. Run one wheel up on the curb and note how the doors still open and close. Sit on the firm, heavy fenders. Try the steering gear. See how easily it handles the full-size balloon tires. Test the comfort of the deep rear seat. Its genuine wool upholstery covers two layers of washed, quilted cotton, one layer of genuine curled hair and extra long springs closely held together by small coil springs.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of this size and weight, according to the ratings of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Come in and see this bargain in quality—the lowered price closed car ever sold by Studebaker.

in Majority

New York, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Two consecutive victories over the World Champion Senators have rekindled pennant hopes in the Philadelphia American League camp. The hopes are based on slight mathematical chances however.

Although they are still trailing by seven games, the Athletics have pulled an even break out of a series with the Senators and their lethargy, which extended through twelve losing straight games, is ended.

The Macks came out of a free hitting game yesterday on the long end of a 9-7 score, totalling 15 safeties off three Washington hurlers. Four pitchers were used by Philadelphia. Baumgartner finished as the winning twirler.

In the only other American League game, the Yankees bowed before the Red Sox, 5-4. Flagstead's double with two out in the ninth, scored Rosenthal with the winning run. Babe Ruth hung up a pair of doubles and two singles in four times up and drove in three of the New York runs.

Pittsburgh dropped the final game of a series to the Cubs, 9-7, after an eleven inning fray. Bunched hits and misplays allowed Chicago to register three tallies in the final inning. Kaufman went the distance in the box for the winners.

The setback reduced the lead of the Pirates over the Giants to seven and one half games. Other clubs in the National League were not scheduled.

The Chicago Cubs are the only club to hold the upper hand over the league leading Pirates for the season. They battled the leaders for an eleven inning victory which gave them twelve victories to ten defeats.

Howard Frigau of the Cubs, made four hits, including a homer and two doubles in five times at bat.

Lefty Baumgartner of the Athletics, who has been having a tough time to win games, broke into the picture yesterday with the bases loaded and retired the side by pitching to one man. In the A's turn at bat Lefty gave way to a pinch hitter during a rally which netted five runs and Lefty was given credit for the game.

Im Flagstead broke up the game in the ninth inning with a double which sent the winning marker home and gave the Red Sox a close victory over the Yankees.

The two little dark mascots who appeared in the Athletic dugout and shooed away the hoodoo Tuesday, were back on the job again yesterday and the Athletics again trimmed the Senators.

Roger Peckinpaugh slammed out consecutive home runs against the Athletics, but they were not enough to give the Senators victory. However he made it tough for the Macks to cop, the two homers accounting for runs while he drove in another and his long fly let in a sixth.

The Cincinnati Reds went down to Decatur, Ill., to show the Three Eye Leaguers how a major league club plays but got a sudden blunder in the tune of 9-1. Charlie Dressen, Decatur boy, was presented with a floral horse shoe, diamond cuff links and a traveling bag by admiring fans.

At Simmons, slugging outfielder of the Athletics, along with Baumgartner and Rommel, were the real heroes in the Athletics second straight victory. His smashing triple with the bases loaded in the sixth frame put the Athletics back in the game.

Mack Thinks This Year
Was Best Opportunity

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Pate and the "breaks" in Connie Mack's opinion, have shattered his dream of piloting the Athletics this year back to the high places of baseball and pennant glory that has been beyond his reach for more than a decade.

These two factors, he thinks, stepped in without warning to drop the Athletics from the heights to an almost hopeless position in the rear in three weeks.

Mack does not repeat the familiar refrain of the loser—"wait until next year."
"This was our best chance," he said.

At the noon hour a sumptuous dinner was served followed by a delightful social time.

They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts of silver including a purse of silver dollars. The honored couple in their very pleasant way showed their appreciation of the pleasure afforded them. At a late hour the company left for their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Kutter many other similar happy occasions in the future.

Ralph Thompson and Leo Henry were in Chicago Sunday.

Jesse Fox and family spent the week end in North Baltimore, Ohio. Earnest Clemmons and wife have been spending a few days at the Wisconsin Dells.

Mrs. Elizabeth Florschuetz and her daughter, Mrs. Clara Zaph of Ottawa, are leaving this week for Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Some fifty descendants of the Montavon family from various localities met Sunday in the Compton City Park and enjoyed the place during the day. Of course the main feature of the day was the beautiful picnic dinner served cafeteria style par les dames du canton. It was proposed to hold this meeting once a year but Frank Montavon objected on the grounds that he "must eat more than once a year." His brother John, while not distinguished in Frank's capacity claimed special power in fascinating the visiting ladies, in fact it must be admitted he had no competition. Juste Montavon was crowned as chef du cafe noir. Mr. and Mrs. Thebay came out from Rockford to meet their uncles and aunts. Mr. Thebay on coming through unfortunately missed his way and went ten miles out of his way. But he has such a good time pitching horse-shoes he said, "Tout est bien."

DIXON TEMPLARS TO MEET TUESDAY TO PLAN ON TRIP

Commandery Expects to Attend Conclave in Entire Force

The Dixon Knights Templar and their ladies have a wonderful treat in store for them at the 69th annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Illinois which is to be held in Chicago, Sept. 28th, 29th and 30th. A synopsis of the program has been received and is as follows:

Monday Sept. 28th. Arrival and reception of the visiting Commanderies, reporting at the Grand Commandery headquarters, LaSalle Hotel. Templar escorts will meet all incoming trains. Tickets will be furnished to all visitors in coupon form which will be good for the Cubs baseball game, Monday afternoon, also for theaters in the downtown district, steamboat trips on Lake Michigan, seats in the Grant Park Stadium for the brigade review, the parade and pageant review, the grand fireworks display, the mammoth vaudeville entertainment at Medinah Temple and several other features.

Monday evening there will be a grand banquet to the Grand Commander and his staff followed in the evening by the most elaborate ball ever given by the Knights Templar in Chicago. This will be at the Municipal Pier out in the lake. This, of course, is a full dress affair and only Sir Knights in full uniform will be admitted. This ball is given in honor of Grand Commander Henry R. Lundblad. For those who do not care to dance, if the weather is not there will be steamboat trips from the pier.

Tuesday Sept. 29th. Morning and early afternoon, automobile trips for the Sir Knights and their ladies from the "Show Chicago" headquarters at Medinah Temple to points of interest, including the park and boulevard system (150 miles), stock yards, Field Museum, Wrigley's "gum plant", Wrigley's Tower and Tribune Tower, South Chicago steel mills, etc.

2:30 p. m. The Sir Knights will assemble at Soldier's Field (Grant Park Stadium) for brigade review. During this time there will be some special entertainment for the ladies.

7:00 p. m. Grand parade and NONCHALANT, as though his deed were all in a day's sport, Harrison Noel, son of a wealthy and prominent family, posed for his photograph after, police say, he confessed to the abduction and kidnaping of Mary Daly, six, while she was at play near her home at Montclair, N. J.

pageant of illuminated floats emblematic of Masonic events in American history, starting from Grant Park and passing in review before the grand officers at the Hotel LaSalle and terminating in the Stadium where there will be seats for 40,000 to witness the grand display of fireworks which will include more than forty set pieces, including Templar portraits, emblems and the Battle of Chippity Ridge.

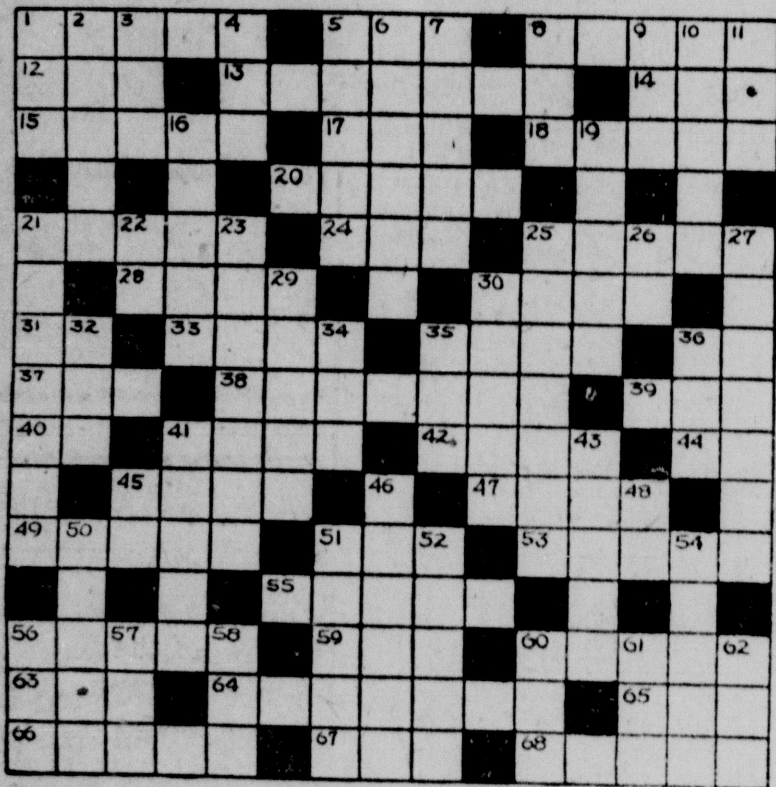

Wednesday Sept. 30th. Competitive drills by the crack teams in the Stadium. Conclusion of the conclave at the Hotel LaSalle and the election of Grand Commander, etc. Automobile trips for visitors as on preceding days, with plenty of "cortesy cars" for all.

Evening. A mammoth vaudeville entertainment to be given at Medinah Temple.

The entire Dixon Commandery will meet at the Masonic Temple next Tuesday evening to decide upon how they will go to Chicago, whether by train or auto and to receive instructions as to the Dixon headquarters while in Chicago and how and where they may receive their tickets for the various events. Sir Knight Angier Wilson is closing up arrangements for rooms with one of the large Chicago hotels for the Dixon Sir Knights so they will be all together. There are still a few Dixon Sir Knights who have not asked him to reserve a room for them.

MAY SEYMOUR FOOT LOOSE

by BEATRICE BURTON
SEQUEL TO "THE FLAPPER WIFE"

THE STORY SO FAR:

MAY SEYMOUR, whose husband killed himself because of her love affair with another man, returns to her home town after a year's absence. She sells her property, and with her tiny fortune in cash, sets out to find and marry a man with money.

At Atlantic City she meets HERBERT WATERBURY and DAN SPRAGUE through a divorcee, MRS. CARLOTTA FROELING. Both men pay suit to May greatly to the distress of her friends. She has long been in love with Dan. She and May become great friends, however, and Carlotta asks May to spend the winter with her in her California home.

May finds Dan much more attractive than Waterbury. But she decides that Waterbury is the rich husband she is looking for. So she sets her cap for him. He finally proposes and May accepts him. When he offers to invest her money for her she turns it over to him . . . and immediately he disappears, and the money with him!

Penniless, May sells her furs and diamonds to buy a railroad ticket to California where Carlotta lives. On the way she stops off in her home town to see her friends, DICK GREGORY and GLORIA, his wife. There she meets a wealthy widow, ULYSSES FORGAN, who falls in love with her at first sight and proposes. But May refuses him for the reason that she likes him too well to marry him without love!

On the train bound for Carlotta's home in Los Altos, she meets Dan Sprague. And while Dan carries on a flirtation with GOLDIE GAY, a movie actress, May enters into conversation with LEMUEL FISHBACK, a motion picture magnate who offers May a small part in a new film of his.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)
MAY did not so much as glance at Dan all the rest of the way to Los Altos.

She was busy with her own dark thoughts as she sat gazing out of the window . . . seeing nothing of the tawny landscape . . . the golden land with its girde of green that lies at the foot of the Santa Cruz mountains.

"The more I see of men the more I hate 'em!" she said violently to herself, as she tried to brush the thought of Dan Sprague from her mind as she might have brushed a fly from her sleeve.

But persistent as a fly, it kept coming back to torment her. She was so lost in thought that she did not notice when the train pulled into the station at Los Altos. Then suddenly she caught sight of a face she knew . . . Carlotta's face, and Carlotta just outside on the platform, waving a welcome with both of her plump hands! . . . That brought May to her senses.

By the time she had gathered together her bags, and nearly jumped from the train, Dan Sprague was at Carlotta's side.

"This is the nicest thing that could happen to me!" the fat little woman said breathlessly, standing on tiptoe to kiss May's cheek. "To have you and Dan here together! . . . Why, Dan! Dan! . . . I had no idea you'd even left New York! I can't believe you're really here!"

She pressed his hand as if to make sure that it was real, and the look she gave him was pathetic in its tenderness.

"He never writes to me, the bad boy!" she went on, turning once more to May, "And I never know where he is, or how he is, until he suddenly drops from the sky . . . like this."

As if she suddenly remembered something of vast importance she picked up May's bags.

"I'll carry these. . . Dan'll have THAT the splendid crops promised in all parts of Canada this year should go far towards making that country prosperous.

E. W. Beatty, Chairman and President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, says

THAT the splendid crops promised in all parts of Canada this year should go far towards making that country prosperous.

THAT Canada has still plenty of room for the right sort of people and much to offer them.

THAT railroad rates have to pay something more than operating costs and interest charges, and that the country's trade.

the breath of life to them. And they will take it from anybody . . . even from the Dan Spragues of this swirling world!

So May brushed her blue-black hair until it shone like a mirror, reddened the full curve of her lips with paint, and pencilled her eyebrows with the utmost care . . . for the eyes of Dan!

CARLOTTA'S kitchen was the most cheerful room imaginable. The walls were blue and white, and so was the linoleum that covered the floor. There were white curtains in the windows, a white cloth on the table, and from blue corner cupboards glistened the shiniest of aluminum pans and the cleanest of white china.

Carlotta, herself, in the starchiest of white aprons, bustled around like a big character doll, her blue eyes round and solemn with excitement.

"I made ice cream," she said, bringing in a freezer from the tiny back porch. "Dear, dear! Everything's ready to put on the table! I wonder why Dan doesn't come! It'll be too dark and cold to eat out on the porch if he doesn't hurry."

May said nothing. She had her own thoughts as to the reason for Dan's delay. She had caught a glimpse of Goldie Gay's purple skirt whisking off the train just ahead of her, that afternoon.

"Let's go out on the porch and wait for him," she suggested, and when they were comfortably settled in deep wicker chairs, watching the lavender dusk deepen over the lovely little town, she told Carlotta about Lemuel Fishback.

" . . . and so I'm going into the movies," she finished. "And it'll be a god-send to me just now when I need the money so terribly. Otherwise I'd just have to go back to typewriting or else throw myself on your charity for a few months."

Carlotta turned in her chair and stared at her coldly for a full minute.

"On my charity!" she said at last. "Why, I thought you had money to burn!"

Her eyes dropped to May's left hand where it lay idly on the wide arm of her chair. She picked it up, looked at it, and then let it go.

"Where," she asked, "are your rings and your wrist-watch?"

May laughed. "Gone but not forgotten," she answered. "I had to sell them, sweetie . . . after Horrie Waterbury went south with every cent I had in the world!"

Wordless, Carlotta fell back in her chair and opened her eyes still wider, while May told her all about Horrie's disappearance.

"My stars!" she exclaimed when May had finished. "My stars! I told you he was a crook, but you wouldn't listen to me. . . ."

Her voice trailed off, and May saw that she had forgotten all about Waterbury. She had leaned over the railing of the porch and was gazing down the street, trying to pierce the semi-darkness with her eyes.

"I don't see Dan," she murmured plaintively. "I do hope he hasn't forgotten about coming here. . . . Would you call him up at the hotel?"

"Would I?" May shook her head. "I certainly would not! If he doesn't call enough about you to remember a date with you, I'd let him go to the Dickens!"

"Well, let's wait five minutes more. I'm sure he'll be here," Carlotta answered.

"They waited for over half an hour and still Dan did not come. At 9 o'clock they ate the over-done chicken, the tough peas and the watery ice cream. They ate in silence and in gloom; and as soon as the meal was over and the dishes washed, May went to bed.

"I think I'll sit up and read a while. Dan might come for a minute or two, and I'd hate to miss him," Carlotta said as she kissed her goodnight.

"It's so nice to have you here with me, May dear," she added as an afterthought. . . .

BUT Dan did not come. May knew that the next morning by the droop of Carlotta's mouth and the weary look in her red-rimmed eyes.

She did not mention him, but her heart was filled with pity for the tragic little woman when she left her alone in the bungalow, and started out for Lemuel Fishback's "location" in the foothills beyond the town.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE LITTLE MARQUISE, CARE THE SECRET DRAWER

It's a long time since I have written to you, dear confidante of mine, and so many things have happened that I do not know where to begin first.

My beautiful old English chest has come from New York, and I am proceeding to take all the letters I have written you from the safety deposit box and put them in the chest. The ancient lock is the most intricate thing, with bolts and bars and other devices for keeping its contents inviolate, and I am perfectly mad about it. Last night when I had it installed in my bedroom, Jack asked me what I intended to put in the chest, and when I told him, he just looked at me and laughed.

By the way, Little Marquise, it was the first time I had seen Jack smile since we both were rescued from drowning. I was glad to see it, although I got a little cold when he said:

"I am going to read all those fanciful ravings of yours some day, Leslie dear."

You see I thought of all the things I had said about him to you. Unless he could understand me just as you have, it might make a great deal of trouble. Then I thought of the dear little secret drawer, where all these letters always repose until I can put them in the safety deposit box, and how they would now rest in that old oaken chest with its copper lining—so heavy that it takes two men to move it—behind the intricate lock, and I did not worry any more.

Today, Little Marquise, I think I am going to surprise you. All my letters up to this date have been about my husband and my children, but today I am going to tell you something that does not concern my husband or babies at all, but something that does concern me very much.

Another man has come into my life.

Doesn't that sound like a vamp or a flapper or whatever they call these very sophisticated young women of today? Perhaps you would not recognize them by that time, but I expect you had some of the same specs in that far-off time when you were loved by a king.

I wonder if you ever acknowledged even to yourself that any other man than his royal highness occupied any part of your mind or in any way influenced your life. I have to acknowledge it, for this man has pushed himself, without any consent or any encouragement of mine, into a place where I am thinking of him much more than I should.

I wish, oh, how I wish, that you could talk back to me. I need the advice of someone. I would like to know if I am doing anyone a wrong. Not showing to Jack a most beautiful letter I got from Melville Sartoris lately.

I wish, Little Marquise, you had not destroyed all the letters of the king before you died, because I am sure I could have gotten many suggestions from them. As it is I do not dare tell even Ruth, and I am afraid to say anything about it to

Jack; and keeping it in my heart is not doing me any good, I am sure. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

TOMORROW—Letter from Leslie Prescott to the Little Marquise.

Is Today Your Birth Anniversary?

THURSDAY, SEPT. 10

If so, you are guided by your impulses.

And are apt to act rashly.

Your moods are quickly changeable.

At times you are very communicative.

When people talk with you.

But then you become very curt.

People misunderstand you.

And they become unfriendly.

You have serious ideals.

And they will be realized.

You will have a beautiful home.

And be worshipped by your family.

No Prisoners in South Dakota Jail in 10 Years

Aberdeen, S. D. Sept. 9.—Isabel challenges any town in the nation to compare with it, in that it has no peace officer, so law abiding are its citizens.

It is ten years since the jail has held an inmate.

Since that time no marshal, no deputy sheriff and no constable has been needed.

Escaped Convict Held as Chenoa Bank Robber

Bloomington, Sept. 9.—Harry Funk, ex-convict, was positively identified this noon by J. E. Kelley, aged president of the now defunct Farmers' Bank at Chenoa, as one of two men who posed as bank examiners last January and after pretended labors upon the books robbed the bank of $154,000. Miss Anna Sommers, assistant in the bank was also positive in her identification. Both of these had much time to observe the man while he was at work for several hours before closing time the day of the robbery. Preliminary hearing for Harry Funk will be held this afternoon when the sheriff will ask $50,000 bond.

Sword Swallowing Act Perfect: In Hospital

Columbus, O., Sept. 9.—Convincing work in his amateur sword swallowing act at a local theater last night accomplished full result in the way of thrills for his audience, but threatened to end disastrously for Jack Hill, 24, of Edgefield, Ohio.

Hill swallowed the sword all right

—a nine inch case knife—but in his stomach the knife remained until surgeons removed it at a hospital several hours later.

Apparently Hill's act went over smoothly, ending in a demonstration in which the knife disappeared down his throat. He bowed as the audience applauded, then left the stage without restoring the blade to view. Fully aware of his predicament Hill went to a hospital. An x-ray revealed the knife, the blunt end down and the point piercing his esophagus.

Through an abdominal incision the blade was removed and except for incidental shock has caused no harm. Hill will recover.

Offers Land for Big Shenandoah Monument

Caldwell, O., Sept. 9.—T. A. Davis, who owns the farm near Ava where the Shenandoah fell last Thursday morning, has written Secretary of the Navy Wilbur offering to donate one acre of his farm land as a site for a monument or a national park in memory of the 14 killed. The land he offers is that on which the central cabin crashed.

Don't you know this is Heale weather and a little of that wonderful foot powder will give your aching tired feet relief.
